

The Alamo Compound, ca. 1836

The exterior walls of the compound consisted of a series of individual huts connected by walls running between them. These huts and walls varied in height from 9 to 12 feet.

