San Antonio — Have you ever wondered what was happening inside and outside the walls prior to the battle of The Alamo? On March 4, 2016, admirers of Texas history are invited to experience a recreation of the events including conversations of the evening before the final attack. Seven scenarios, softly lit by candle and firelight, will take participants back in time to witness history unfold.

The event begins at 6:30 p.m. with tours departing every 15 minutes. The last tour will depart at 10 pm. Each tour will last approximately 45 minutes. Only 500 tickets will be sold for this event.

Ticket prices are:

Adults and children over 12: $20

Children 7-14: $10

Children under 7 are free with paid adult.

Tickets sold through Eventbrite: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/an-evening-with-heroes-the-alamo-under-siege-tickets-19866101043?aff=es2>. For more information about this event contact Sherri Driscoll at 210-225-1391 x135 or sdriscoll@thealamo.org.
