

Section of Crockett Street Closing For Phase One Construction On 2/24

Starting Monday, February 24, the section of Crockett Street that runs around and in front of the Menger Hotel, will close for phase one of the Alamo Plan. The sidewalk in front of the Menger Hotel will remain open. Phase one will be completed by the end of 2020.

Alamo Street and Bonham Street will be unaffected. Additionally, the sidewalk on the northside of the Long Barrack will be closed.

Visitors will still be able to access the sidewalk and walkways in front of the Menger and will be able to use the crosswalk where Crockett and Alamo Street intersect, to approach the Alamo grounds. Alamo Plaza will be accessible from all other directions.

The Plaza will remain free and open to visitors 24/7, and the Alamo will remain free and open to visitors during normal business hours.
